

Our vision is to co-create a project in service of the greater mobility of the Bayview Hunters Point community. We seek to pave the way for an equitable transportation network through a people-first approach that is restorative and embedded within community context and culture. As an outcome we envision the following:

- Increased mobility and choice for those most vulnerable to transportation challenges
- Holistic environmental and socio-economic benefits through the provision of sustainable and accessible transportation alternatives
- A collaborative framework that centers community decision making and ownership of data
- Investment and accountability from local leadership that parallels community contributions
- Connect people to that places they need to be
- Seek to repair harm, harm reduction/restorative measures, utilize lessons from the past to design a better future
- Accountability from leadership, particularly SFMTA commitment and buy-in
- Solutions that are culturally relevant and embedded within community context
