Lessons Learned from Project

- Activity conducted November 2017-April 2018; revisit post-construction
- 12 sessions held
 - Based on project phases, emphasis of phases from Conceptual Engineering Report into construction
 - Followed consistent format
 - What went well
 - Challenges and what to do differently
 - Missed opportunities
 - Unforeseen events
 - Evaluation of outreach
 - Handling of particular issues

Lessons Learned from Project

- Key outcomes

- Integration of interagency project team should have been done earlier, include evaluation metrics, decision making protocols, funding and interagency agreements
 - Global interagency MOUs were established with Van Ness Improvement Project
- Conduct adequate community outreach prior to drafting environmental document
- Develop staff recommended alternative as part of draft environmental document
- Select delivery method prior to Conceptual Engineering Report
- Facilitate decision space for the public when possible
- Conduct pre-construction survey to inform construction support
- Coordinate contracts for implementation of interagency projects by discipline
- Confirm site conditions early, specifications should be detailed
- Provide robust outreach program to community
