Van Ness Bus Rapid Transit Community Advisory Committee Membership Application

Major upgrades are underway on Van Ness Avenue in San Francisco to rehabilitate and revitalize aging infrastructure on the historic corridor.

This massive civic improvement project is bringing San Francisco its first Bus Rapid Transit (BRT) system, a much-needed and globally-proven solution to improve transit service and address traffic congestion on Van Ness Avenue, a major north-south arterial. This new BRT service will serve one of the region's major employment and commercial centers with one of the highest population densities in San Francisco.

Along with a new BRT system, construction of the project also includes several upgrades including replacing more than 22,000 feet of 1800s-era water main, installing a reliable and seismically safe sewer system the length of Van Ness Avenue, overhauling the system that supplies 1,200 hydrants dedicated to emergency firefighting and updating streetlights with brighter, more efficient lights and adding sidewalk lighting.

The San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency, responsible for the design, engineering, construction and operation of the Van Ness Improvement Project, is seeking Van Ness Avenue residents, employees, neighbors and visitors, to serve as representatives on the Van Ness BRT Community Advisory Committee, or Van Ness BRT CAC, to provide feedback, recommendations and advice during construction, while providing a forum for the community to raise issues, discuss and have input on project responses to these issues.

To apply for membership, please complete the attached application by Tuesday, June 30, 2020, and return to:

Van Ness Bus Rapid Transit (BRT) Community Advisory Committee (CAC)

Composition and Purpose

The Van Ness Bus Rapid Transit Community Advisory Committee, called Van Ness BRT CAC for short, consists of representatives from a diverse cross-section of residents, businesses, advocacy groups, non-profit organizations and Community Benefit and Business Improvement Districts. The Van Ness BRT CAC provides input to the Van Ness Bus Rapid Transit project team by providing varied perspectives from the surrounding community and city.

The issues, goals and concerns relating to the surrounding community will be taken into consideration within the context of supporting this important project.

Background

Bus Rapid Transit (BRT) is an innovative and cost-effective approach to creating rapid transit along Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco's major north-south transit route, for two miles between Mission and Lombard streets. The project includes:

- Dedicated and colorized bus lanes, helping reduce transit travel time by 32 percent.
- Transit signal priority, giving buses more green lights and helping increase transit reliability by up to 50 percent.
- New light-rail like stations with platforms to allow for faster boarding through all doors to reduce transit delays by more than 40 percent.
- These benefits are estimated to contribute to a 35 percent increase in transit ridership along the corridor.

Recruiting Van Ness BRT CAC members

The SFMTA is recruiting individuals to participate on the Van Ness BRT CAC. The outreach and selection considerations for participation in this group are as follows:
