A Safer Taylor Street is Coming!

This summer, the San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency (SFMTA) is kicking off the Safer Taylor Street Project.

This project proposes to bring a range of improvements to Taylor Street with a focus on:

- Pedestrian safety and accessibility
- Cyclist safety and mobility
- Traffic, circulation and loading
- Creating a more livable Taylor Street for everyone

The Safer Taylor project is a critical component of the City's Vision Zero goal to eliminate all traffic deaths. The City will develop a plan in strong collaboration with the Taylor Street community of residents, businesses, social services, and advocacy organizations for a new vision for Taylor between Market and Sutter Streets that improves transportation safety for all users.
