Paula Katz, on behalf of Albert Chow, submitted the following public comment summary per SF Administrative Code Section 67.16:

Reject the Geary Quick Build until after DPW's construction in 2025. Removing parking will be very disruptive to merchants, residents, and shoppers, only to have DPW rip up the street to replace underground pipes in less than 2 years. The benefits don't outweigh the harm to merchants, who will lose much needed parking spaces and business. I'm on Taraval, where the construction is totally disrupting my business. Cars and customers have avoided Taraval because it's so unwelcoming, and I fear they won't return. You're asking a lot of small businesses on Geary to take a big financial hit with the loss of parking and two rounds of disruption two years apart. Usually, we dig into our financial reserves to weather the disruption. But having just survived Covid shutdowns, many merchants haven't built up their reserves. At least during Covid, we got PPP's. We get no financial support during MTA projects.

Chair Eaken recessed the meeting at 3:35pm and reconvened the meeting at 3:47pm.

Director Yekutiel requested a board discussion on the agency's Construction Management Program.

On motion to approve Option 1:
